

Rakuten to Acquire PriceMinister in France

- European Market Entry Marks Important Milestone in Rakuten's Global Strategy -

TOKYO, June 17, 2010 -- Rakuten, Inc. ("Rakuten", JASDAQ: 4755) today announced that it has reached a definitive agreement to acquire PriceMinister S.A. ("PriceMinister"), the No. 1 online shopping destination in France. This acquisition is a significant step toward Rakuten's objective to create a global platform where consumers can enjoy shopping no matter where they are located, and to help merchants grow their online business.

Founded in 2000, PriceMinister provides customers with a guaranteed online shopping experience on its marketplace Priceminister.com which is the most visited e-commerce site in France accessed by over 11 million users per month. With more than 100,000 active sellers and over 21,000 merchants offering an extensive selection exceeding 160 million products, PriceMinister strives to provide a high-quality service to its approximately 12 million members. In addition to France, PriceMinister has established its marketplace business in Spain and the United Kingdom.

"We are delighted to join hands with PriceMinister which is a respected brand in France providing consumers with the best online shopping service," said Hiroshi Mikitani, Founder, Chairman and CEO of Rakuten. "PriceMinister is led by an excellent senior management team and together we envision developing a global shopping platform."

The acquisition of 100% of PriceMinister's shares is valued at approximately €200 million and the closing is scheduled for July 2010.

"Rakuten has deep knowledge of how to build beneficial relationships with merchants and consumers and we see a huge opportunity for PriceMinister to grow even faster by combining our respective strengths. More specifically, Rakuten is a world expert in the BtoBtoC marketplace business model. They will help us introduce innovative tools tailored to meet a variety of needs of corporate sellers throughout Europe," said Pierre Kosciusko-Morizet, Founder, Chairman and CEO of PriceMinister.

The French e-commerce market is one of the fastest growing in Europe. It is projected to grow at an average annual growth rate of 19.5% between 2009 and 2014 (Source: 2010 Euromonitor International). By leveraging Rakuten's expertise in empowering merchants and deploying sales campaigns, PriceMinister will strengthen its competitive advantage in the French market. Rakuten will also further develop its global network of e-commerce businesses by leveraging its presence in Asia, the U.S. and Europe.

As PriceMinister also operates highly successful businesses such as online travel price comparison and real estate classified sites, Rakuten intends to leverage these businesses for its international expansion strategy.
